Lodge Not Alarmed by Secession; Seeks Pledge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.- Republi

not the slightest intention on the part of Senator Lodge and those participating with him in the bi-partisan meetings to compromise on any principle that is preserved by the Lodge reservations. They contended, however, that it is possible to change the language of some of the reservations so they will not carry an affront to other nations, as many Senators feel they now do, without lessening what the "irreconcilables" want in the way of protection for this country.

Lodge Seeks Show-Down

Senator Lodge is known to have taken the position to-day that it is important to know whether the "irreconcilables" will now vote for the Lodge reservations if no change is made in them, and he is said to feel that if they will not they are weakening their own position by taking an absolutely uncompromising attitude.

Paris Modifies Dances

To Meet Church Protest tionable Steps Out of "Fox Trot" and "Bunny Hug"

The majority leader feels that the reconcilables have raised a bue and y before they have seen what is comg out of the bi-partisan meetings and at they may rest assured that noth-g will come of those conferences hich will compromise any principle, hatewer is agreed upon there will be abmitted to a Republican conference, cluding all Senators of that party, and if not accepted there would, of there, not reach the Senate. This has ways been the program, as Senator.

early if not accepted there would, of course, not reach the Senate. This has always been the program, as Senator Ledge is said to understand it, and there has been no deviation, his friends say, from that program, nor will there be any, a fact which the Democrats on the conference committee realize and with which they are reckoning at the meetings.

Not Alarmed by "Revolt"

But neither Mr. Lodge nor his friends appeared to-day to be greatly alarmed the fox trot and other steps in the past hardy and the few for the conference committed to their friends appeared to-day to be greatly alarmed to day. They have added as the wind the provided to their friends that the Cardinal's letter was almed appeared to day to be greatly alarmed to day. They have added as the few fox trot and other steps in the past hardy of the conference committee the steps of the "irreconcilables" brought new light into the present situation to day. They declared to their friends that the hand of Will Hays, chairman of the Republican leaders who want to get the treaty of peace out of the way and out of the campaign. As appeared back of the program of midle reservations. The "irreconcilables" object to taking the treaty out of the campaign as a least in this feshion, and feel that Republican leaders who want to get the treaty of the campaign. As appeared back of the people of the country when we have the cardinal's letter was almed the fact that inassumed as the church has condamned the fox trot and other steps that the hand of Will Hays, chair man of the Parklas and the steps and the step have been maded the step have been maded the fox trot and called the dance the "Spanish Schottische." Some the "Irreconcilables" brought new light into the present situation to day. They declared to their friends that the hand of Will Hays, chair man of the proposition to the league of maintenance to the proposition of the campaign has appeared back of the proposition and the conference could that the hand of Will Hays, chair who was desire are misinterpretin of the campaign, at least in this feshion, and feel that Republican lead every event who so desire are misinterpreting the wishes of the people of the country.

These Senators do not agree with the tiens advanced in other quarters among the Republicans that Mr. Hays and other active party leaders who are position to judge the feeling of the people than are men who pass most of their time in Washington. The "irreconcilables" admit there is logic in this argument, but say that unfortunately the Republican leaders are constantly talking with friends in the East who want the treaty ratified, and assert their judgment about the feelings elsewhere has been considerably warped by these long-distance conversations.

The political phase of the disagreement has given a new interest to it, since not all the "irreconcilables" are back of Senator Hiram Johnson, and come of them might be expected to be cound in any camp where Mr. Lodge is their rather than one in which Mr. Johnson in the conspicuous figure. ound in any camp where Mr. Lodge is chief rather than one in which Mr. Johnson is the conspicuous figure. Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, who is active in handlang General Leonard Wood's boom for the Republican nomination, was with the "treeoncilables" last night when they served notice of their position on Mr. Lodge. So was Senator Poindexter, who has a Presidential boom of his own. So was Senator Brandegee, who is not supposed to be for either General Wood or Mr. Poindexter.

The Democrats were not particularly surprised at the threat of Republican trouble. Senator Hitchcock took the view that it was to be expected and the fate of the bi-partisan meetings, he agreed, depends upon the outcome of the Republican family affair. Until that is settled the Democrats can do little but sit tight and hope, without much of the latter.
